General Description

This summer, thousands of CUNY students will prepare for their careers by interning in a job related to their major and that requires a college degree.

A new initiative will recruit students from throughout CUNY who haven't had substantial paid professional experience but who are ambitious, bright, and ready to practice what they are learning in the classroom in the work world.

Interns will have the opportunity to build skills, extend their professional networks, add to their resumes, and contribute to employers throughout NYC in several key industries, such as education and healthcare. Employers will benefit from CUNY students' many talents and knowledge.

This new initiative will be coordinated in CUNY's Central Office of Academic Affairs and implemented at 4 CUNY colleges.

The Director is the face and leader of the initiative. They will be responsible for designing, implementing, and coordinating multiple aspects of the program and managing numerous, high-profile relationships. LaGuardia will serve as the healthcare hub for the CUNY Career Launch Program.

This is a temporary position with an expected duration through the end of December 2022 with the possibility of an extension.
