General Description

POSITION AVAILABLE: Administrative Assistant

The Barry Commoner Center for Health and the Environment is an environmental and occupational health research center at Queens College, City University of New York. We are seeking an administrative assistant for our Worker Health Protection Program, which provides free medical screening examinations to former Department of Energy (DOE) nuclear workers. This position is located in person at Queens College in central Queens and would consist carrying out daily clerical and scheduling tasks of the program, with opportunity for additional responsibilities. This is an excellent opportunity for someone with interest in working in public health.

JOB DESCRIPTION

Responsibilities will include:

1. Schedule medical appointments with participants of our program and coordinate with remote medical clinics and program offices and the local medical team to facilitate medical screening and follow-up
2. Enter medical data into FileMaker database; file and organize digital medical results; prepare medical results and other communications for mailing to participants
3. Participate in regularly scheduled program meetings and communicate with other program staff, including program physicians, on a daily basis
4. Attend educational sessions at the Center to advance knowledge and experience in public health
5. Other office related tasks and required training as assigned

Salary: $40,000 to $45,000 with excellent benefits

Hours: Full-time in person Monday through Friday (35 hours per week)

BCCHE is an equal opportunity employer.
