General Description

MISSION

Children need to spend their most critical years with dedicated, educated, trained, and well-compensated individuals in order to thrive. The New York Early Childhood Professional Development Institute leads the work to establish and implement an early childhood workforce system to ensure funding, standards and competencies, career development resources, qualifications and credentials, professional development (training and strengths-based coaching), and program quality assurance and improvement for individuals who work with young children throughout New York. Housed at the City University of New York, the Institute is a fast-paced, dynamic public/private partnership that is committed to the early childhood workforce across New York State.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

The Institute is working with a team of City agencies to support the adoption of a new online attendance tracking system for child care programs and providers. The Institute will be training approximately 8,000 programs and providers who serve children with ACS child care vouchers on the new system with a self-guided training and virtual face-to-face webinars. In addition, the Institute will also provide technical assistance on how to use the new tracking system. We are looking for a part-time Training Project Associate to work with Institute staff and a project team to create, test and track the training delivery system, as well as work with the Project Coordinator to facilitate the Institute's deliverables and timeline.

This position will report to the Project Coordinator. This is a part-time, temporary position, currently funded through June 2021, but expected to extend past that date.
